

April 10, 1942, 12 noon

Dearest:

This has been a busy morning. A Judge Selby, of Corpus Christi, who helped Gerald Mann in his campaign last summer and who now wants to find out how to get some government contracts to make war materials in a oil storage-tank plant he is going to buy in Houston, came in to see us. Mayor Miller had written us to help him if we could. His partner is Wray Richards of Luling. We made him appointments with Glenn Blackshear, who steers little business men around at WPB, and with George Sexton, who has charge of taking bids--or at least has a lot to do with saying who gets a contract to build what. He also is at WPB.

Then Russ Brown and Everett Looney and Tex Easley have all been in to see us.

When I arrived at the office this morning I found my beautiful, dear, and much appreciated pictures! I think three of them are wonderful--the fourth I don't like because it is too sad--and I want my darling to look only happy. They are sitting on my desk and, I must say, take my mind off my work to some extent! How I long to see you.

I have just been to see Major Parten about getting a job for John Terrell, old Judge Terrell's boy; had very little luck on that but a very nice visit with Major Parten, who told me much about his problems, and sent you his fond regards and said he wanted to take me and Nellie to dinner some night.

On Tuesday, April 21, I have invited Mrs. Ickes, Mrs. Bill Douglas, Elizabeth Rowe, and Tharon Perkins to lunch. I haven't had time to get an answer yet from Mrs. Douglas's ~~name~~, I'm thinking of asking Jean Kintner, Mrs. Fritz Lanham, Mrs. Mitchell Palmer. Have you any people you want me to ask?

Must run, dear--have not time to breathe. No maid yet--awful mess. Took much exercises yesterday. Getting pretty tired.

Always all my love,

April 10, 1942, 12 noon

Dearest:

This has been a busy morning. A Judge Selby, of Corpus Christi, who helped Gerald Mann in his campaign last summer and who now wants to find out how to get some government contracts to make war materials in a oil storage-tank plant he is going to buy in Houston, came in to see us. Mayor Miller had written us to help him if we could. His partner is Wray Richards of Luling. We made him appointments with Glenn Blackshear, who steers little business men around at WPB, and with George Sexton, who has charge of taking bids--or at least has a lot to do with saying who gets a contract to build what. He also is at WPB.

Then Russ Brown and Everett Looney and Tex Easley have all been in to see us.

When I arrived at the office this morning I found my beautiful, dear, and much appreciated pictures! I think three of them are wonderful--the fourth I don't like because it is too sad--and I want my darling to look only happy. They are sitting on my desk and, I must say, take my mind off my work to some extent! How I long to see you.

I have just been to see Major Parten about getting a job for John Terrell, old Judge Terrell's boy; had very little luck on that but a very nice visit with Major Parten, who told me much about his problems, and sent you his fond regards and said he wanted to take me and Nellie to dinner some night.

On Tuesday, April 21, I have invited Mrs. Ickes, Mrs. Bill Douglas, Elizabeth Rowe, and Tharon Perkins to lunch. I haven't had time to get an answer yet from Mrs. Douglas's ~~name~~. I'm thinking of asking Jean Kintner, Mrs. Fritz Lanham, Mrs. Mitchell Palmer. Have you any people you want me to ask?

Must run, dear--~~have~~ not time to breathe. No maid yet--awful mess. Took much exercises yesterday. Getting pretty tired.

Always all my love,