

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
WASHINGTON, D. C.

May the seventh
1943

Dearest Lady Bird,

I'm writing a letter to Mother for Mother's Day and I wish you would be a good girl and go down and buy her a suitable present. You know what she would like a lot better than I, so just use your own judgment.

If you don't start writing me more often I am going to have you drafted into the WAACS. Then you'll have to write your next of kin at least twice a month.

Had dinner with Bill Douglas last night and he was his usual entertaining self. He wished that you could have been there, but not half as much as

Your Congressman

Lyndon B. Johnson.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson,
2519 Harris Blvd.,
Austin, Texas.
