PERSONAL

Dear Jack:

I am off to Paris and London, early Monday, returning I hope Friday afternoon. I am meeting Spaak in Paris, and will try to encourage greater European participation in Africa in general and the Congo in particular. I hope an appointment with the President can be arranged after I get back.

I am most grateful for your three kind notes. I was greatly touched by your generous letter about the birthday party, and also your comments on the Churchill film. My remarks at dinner about the crucial role you are playing these days were inadequate, I am afraid, but most sincere. As I look back on last year, one of the things I value highly has been getting to know you. I look forward to being on the President's team in some capacity and continuing to work with you in the coming year.

The Johnson era of the Great Society will be an exciting period at home, and I am convinced it will carry a ring around the world that will bring increasing American influence and achievement of our objectives. I am convinced the President is destined to bring new vigor and new hope to the world.

Marie joins in sending you and Mary Margaret all our best wishes for a rewarding and happy New Year. With our affectionate regards,

Sincerely,

W. Averell Harriman

The Honorable
Jack Valenti,
The White House.
