When I was 15 years old, and my friend and I decided to leave Johnson City and go to California, I bought 2 cases of pork and beans and charged them to my father, without his knowing about it. For two weeks, we ate pork and beans 3 times a day -- for breakfast, lunch, and dinner. I guess that's why I like them so much now. It's true, you know, that you like most of all what you ate as a child." Then asked them if they believed eating too much ice cream and peaches made one sort of plump -- vm and mf answered that it was true, and the President passed on the second helping of dessert.
