					Secretary Rusk indicated that the major portion of the audience for the speech will was the following Foreign Service Officers who are attending courses at the Foreign Service Institute:
					(a) Senior Officers, attending the Senior Seminar, who have records of outstanding performance. The Senior Seminar is the Government's most advanced training program in the field of foreign affairs. Its purpose is to prepare officers to be Chiefs of Mission, Deputy Chiefs of Mission, senior commanders, and to fill positions of highest responsibility
					(b) Junior and middle-grade officers, attending the Area Studies Courses, who are being prepared for important assignments in specific areas of the world (e.g., Southeast Asia, the Middle East, Eastern Europe, Latin America) through studies of language, political-economic and social problems of the area.
					(c) Junior and middle-grade officers, attending the Economic Studies course, who are being given specialized training to fill vacancies in a field of critical shortage and importance
					(d) Junior and middle-grade officers, attending the Administrative Operations Course, who will assume administrative duties in our missions abroad and in the Department
					(e) Junior and middle-grade officers, attending the General Services course, who are being prepared to assume the housekeeping functions at our missions abroad and in the department.
					(f) Officers of all levels who are being given intensive language training.
					(g) Junior Officers new to the foreign service who have recently completed their initial orientation and indoctrination courses and are looking forward to their first assignments.
					Also Senior officers of the Department of State, USIA, AID, the Peace Corps, and ACDA; Foreign Service Officers representing the geographical and functional Bureaus of the DOS; and faculty members of the Foreign Service Institute.

					Joined in the stateroom by Cong. John Rooney, Congwmn Edna Kelly, Cong. Mike Feighan Cong. Pete Rodino -0-
					After the plane departed, the President had the sliding wall removed -- this is a new wall as is the interior of the entire plane -- it has been remodeled so that more people can sit w/ the people and hear him speak. Also a loudspeaker has been installed so that the President can speak w/ the members of the party throughout the aircraft.
	10:45	11:14			Members of the NY Delegation and others joined the President in the stateroom where the President spoke to them from the microphone....he mentioned the senior members of the delegation and J. Edgar Hoover, and quoted figures from Federal Spending in New York, 1964-1965. He also spoke of his regard for Emanuel Celler and his deceased wife -- which was the purpose of the trip -- to attend her funeral. The President also over the microphone arranged the motorcade seating... saying which ones should ride w/ him and then said for the remainder of the Congressional group to "mix up -- put Democrats and Republicans together".
	11:30 am				The Presidential party arrived at KENNEDY INTERNAT'L. AIRPORT, NYC
	11:31				The President w/ Mrs. Johnson, Cong. Keogh, Cong. Rooney, Cong. Multer, Congwmn Kelly, Cong. Carey and SS departed the airport enroute to the funeral services of Mrs. Emanuel Celler.
	12:00				Arrived at 8th Avenue and Garfield Streets in Brooklyn at the Synagogue --- Congregational Beth El-Ohim 0-- for the funeral services of Mrs. Celler
