	9:05p				The President, Mrs. Johnson, Pat and Luci Nugent, Mrs. Robert Kintner, Ambassador Harriman, Horace Busby, Marie Fehmer, and Mary Slater went for a walk down to the Cedar House. The President showed it to the guests, and told the story of how and when it was built. The group sat around the in the living room.
					Among topics of conversation were the recent questions about the validity of the Warren Commission Report. The President said he didn't see how anyone could question it, for it was a blue ribbon group if he had ever seen one.
	9:45p				On the walk back to the Main House, the group went t by an armadillo. The President kept yelling for Secret S <sup>r</sup> vice to catch it, but the armadillo proved to be quicker than either the dog or the Agent.
	9:57p				Upon returning to the house, the President watched the tv news, then went ot to bed--having the chief come in first.
