| T | | | | | At dinner, the President told Senator Russell that what he needed to talk to him | | | | | |
| | | | | | about was VietNam(it was obvious that the two had discussed the same matter | | | | | |
| | 1995 | | | | earlier in the evening). The President outlined three choices open to him: | | | | | |
| | | | | | " 1. I can move further in the North but they tell me that moving further in | | | | | |
| | | | | | the north with the bombing will result in only killing civilians and will not accompl | ish | | | | |
| | | | | | anything that we've not already accomplished. | | | | | |
| | | | | | " 2. I can concentrate completely on the DMZ | | | | | |
| | | | | | " 3. I can concentrate on the areas between the seventeenth and twentieth paral | lels | | | | |
| | | | | | and make my planes make that a desert. Just destroy anythingthat moves." | | | | | |
| | | | | | | | | | | |
| | | | | | Senator Russell feels that dragging this out each day leans more toward getting us | | | | | |
| | | | | | in a big war. "We've just got to finish it soon," said the Senator, "because time | | | | | |
| | | | | | is working against you both here and there." The Senator suggested that his feeling | g | | | | |
| | | | | | was that the only way to end the war was to blockade the ports and stop their lines | - | | | | |
| | | | | | of supply The President expressed sincere belief that this would get us into | | | | | |
| - 1 | | | | | war sooner than anything. He also felt that number (1) above would get us into | | | | | |
| | | | 1 | | war. "The only thing left to take out up there," said the President, "is a power | | | | | |
| | | | | | plant which is located 1/2 mile from Ho's headquarters." "Suppose we missed," | | | | | |
| 1 | | | | | said the President. | | | | | |
| - | | | | | The President then asked the Senator about Lester Maddox. The President told | | | | | |
| | | | 1 | | him, "Well, I watched him on Face the Nation last Sunday, and just decided that | | | | | |
| | | | | | he definitely was not Georgia quality." The Senator said that Gov. Maddox was | | | | | |
| | | | | | a child of fortune, just lucky, and couldn't have beaten any other man in the | | | | | |
| | | | | | race except the one he did beat. | | | | | |
| | | | 1 | | | | | | | |
| | | | 1 | | After his talk w/ Amb. Clark, the President affirmed his belief that he was | | | | | |
| | | | | | a "holt and Menzies man." Sen. Russell said that he hoped Holt was an LBJ | | | | | |
| - | | | | | man because he knew that he won eight seats at least as a result of the | | | | | |
| | 6.0 | | | | President's visit there. The President said that when Holt was here he | | | | | |

| 士 | | | | | The President then launched into a tirade against the newspaper reporters | |
| | | | | | who follow him around at receptions. He explained to Senator Russell that | |
| \perp | | | | | Liz Carpenter's procedure is to invite about 25 of them as guests to | |
| | | | | | each reception type function and then allow a press pool to cover the whole | |
| | | | | | thing. The President said that he can't even swallow a mouth full of food | |
| | | | | -11 | without having one of them watch to see if he chewed it properly before | |
| | sv | | | | swallowing. He said that all we're doing is inviting 500 guests, standing them | |
| | | 31 | | | before the wall, and then making them be gracious to the 25 who come up to | |
| | | | | | them and ask questions like, | |
| | | | | | Are you happy here? Why are you here? Will you come next time? Are you | |
| | | | | | a friend of the family? Isn't the service worse here than it used to be? Isn't | |
| | | | | 1.00 | the coffee weak? | |
| | | 1 | | | The President was quite serious about this and told Mrs. Johnson again that he | |
| | | | | | was no longer attending any receptions where the newspapers were invited as | |
| | | | | | guests. He denied that his anger was caused by the newspaper stories released | |
| | | | | | today about the "little monk" story "because no one in this country will be upse |  |
| 1 | i in the co | | | | about their President and his daughter being down on their knees praying together to Almighty God." | |
| 1 | | | | | At midnight, Senator Russell stood up and said, "Mr. President, it's midnight, | |
| | | | | | and I have to go to bed because I'm an old man, and you have to go to bed because | |
| 1 | | | | | you're President of the United States," | |
