PERSONAL PAPERS OF WALTER JENKINS

For list of folder titles, see page 3

Creator: Jenkins, Walter (Walter Wilson), 1918-1985

Donor: Bromberg, Elizabeth Jenkins

Biographical sketch:

Walter Wilson Jenkins (March 23, 1918 – November 23, 1985) was an American political figure and longtime top aide to U.S. President Lyndon B. Johnson. Jenkins was born in Jolly, Texas, and spent his childhood in Wichita Falls, Texas. There he attended Hardin Junior College and then spent two years at the University of Texas, though he did not earn a degree. In 1945, following his discharge from the Army, he converted to Roman Catholicism and married Helen Marjorie Whitehill. Jenkins and his wife had six children, four boys and two girls. They separated in the early 1970s but never divorced. She died in 1987.

Jenkins began working for Lyndon B. Johnson in 1939 when Johnson was serving in the U.S. House of Representatives as the member from Texas's 10th congressional district. For most of the next 25 years, Jenkins served as Johnson's top administrative assistant, following Johnson as he rose to become a Senator, Vice President under John F. Kennedy, and President.

From 1941 until 1945, Jenkins served in the United States Army during World War II. In 1951, he returned to Wichita Falls to run for the House of Representatives. Jenkins lost to Frank N. Ikard in a race marked by attacks on Jenkins because of his Roman Catholic faith.

Johnson's former aides credit Jenkins for his ability and temperament. In 1975, journalist Bill Moyers, a former Johnson aide and press secretary, wrote in Newsweek: "When they come to canonize political aides, [Jenkins] will be the first summoned, for no man ever negotiated the shark-infested waters of the Potomac with more decency or charity or came out on the other side with his integrity less shaken. If Lyndon Johnson owed everything to one human being other than Lady Bird, he owed it to Walter Jenkins." Joseph Califano wrote, "Jenkins was the nicest White House aide I ever met in any administration. He was never overbearing. It was quite remarkable."

Jenkins' career ended after a sex scandal was reported weeks before the 1964 presidential election, when Jenkins was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct in a public restroom in Washington, D.C.

After leaving Washington, Jenkins returned to Texas and lived the rest of his life in Austin, where he worked as a Certified Public Accountant and management consultant and ran a construction company. He died in 1985, at the age of 67, a few months after suffering a stroke.

Scope and content note:

The papers of Walter Jenkins consists of correspondence, reports, financial records, logs, directories, notes, publications, mementoes, and legal documents collected by Walter Jenkins that are mainly related to his service as an aide to Lyndon B. Johnson and his private business pursuits. The papers cover Mr. Jenkins' professional accomplishments, finances, military service, social activities, friends, associates and clients including Lyndon B. and Lady Bird Johnson. The papers include materials on tourism, real estate, minerals resources, ranching, radio, television, as well as individual clients and businesses.
