PERSONAL PAPERS OF RAMSEY CLARK

For list of folder titles, see page 2

Creator: Clark, Ramsey, 1927-

Biographical sketch:

William Ramsey Clark was Assistant Attorney General at the Department of Justice from 1961 to 1965, Deputy Attorney General from 1965 to 1967, and Attorney General from 1967 to 1969. After leaving the Federal government, he served as a professor of law at Howard University and Brooklyn Law School, worked as an activist and represented many high profile clients.

Scope and content note:

This collection contains materials reflecting Ramsey Clark's career in the United States Department of Justice as Assistant Attorney General under President John F. Kennedy, and as Deputy Attorney General and Attorney General under President Lyndon B. Johnson, as well as his subsequent career as an attorney in private practice. Much of Clark's work involved controversial cases covering civil rights and liberties, religious rights and freedoms, human rights and civil disorder, immigration and naturalization, and the conflict in Vietnam. This collection includes correspondence, memorandums, legal material, reports and summaries, journals, clippings, and speeches.

- Date range of collection: 1961-1974
