

Lieutenant Fochett and Detective Drouillard were also involved in the arrest of Jenkins at 8:30 the next night.

of the officer. He gave his proper identification, but listed his occupation as "clerk".

Within a few days after the arrest, the Lieutenant Colonel was removed from his duties in the Office of the Secretary of the Army and subsequently he was hospitalized at Walter Reed Hospital.

The hospital said the Colonel is in Ward 46, but did not specify his illness. He is reported to have attended a movie at the hospital on Wednesday night.

The Jenkins case and the arrest of an Army officer with sensitive security duties has dramatized the governmental problem with homosexual activities.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has periodically warned of great risk of security being compromised if homosexuals are permitted access to classified documents.

Otepka Case

In recent months, the problem of homosexuals in the State Department has been brought to the attention of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee by Otto F. Otepka, the chief security evaluator at the State Department.

Otepka said that under Secretary of State Dean Rusk the "emergency clearance" procedure was being used to permit dozens of persons to be hired, go on the payroll, and handle highly classified security information without having first been subjected to a full FBI field investigation.

The Senate Subcommittee took testimony showing that the "emergency clearance" procedure was used only five times in the Eisenhower Administration.

During the first 18 months of the Kennedy Administration, the Committee was told, the "emergency clearance" was used more than 150 times. Otepka testified that this represented a lowering of security standards.

Testimony before the House Appropriations Subcommittee shows that in 1963 the State Department dismissed 45 persons because of homosexual activities.

Curtail Use

Secretary Rusk informed the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee that he will cut use of "emergency clearance" to a few cases where speed in an appointment is essential. Otepka found himself in conflict with his superiors on testimony before the Senate Subcommittee.

When he produced records to prove that he was telling the truth, his superiors brought charges against him for not obtaining their permission before producing the evidence.

A hearing on the charges against Otepka has been delayed until after the election.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Federal Bureau of Investigation

October 22, 1964

Jenkins Investigation 50
FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover today reported to President Johnson and Acting Attorney General Nicholas deB. Katzenbach that the FBI's extensive investigation of Walter W. Jenkins, former Assistant to the President, disclosed no information that Mr. Jenkins has compromised the security or interests of the United States in any manner.

At 9:05 p.m., October 14, 1964, upon learning that Mr. Jenkins had been arrested on a morals charge, President Johnson directed the FBI to institute a full and complete investigation.

The investigation launched that evening covered the full scope of Mr. Jenkins' life from his early years in Texas to the present time. More than 500 persons -- including current and former neighbors, business associates, social acquaintances and school classmates -- were interviewed. Medical, financial, military, and police records were reviewed. Every logical available source was contacted to determine whether Mr. Jenkins had engaged in indecent acts on other occasions; whether the national security had been compromised; and why, following a morals arrest of Mr. Jenkins in 1959, the then Senate Majority Leader Johnson had not been notified.

According to Mr. Hoover, the FBI investigation showed that Mr. Jenkins, who was one of several top White House aides, left his desk about 7 p.m. on October 7, 1964, to attend a party at the new offices of "Newsweek" magazine. His wife joined him at this party. At approximately 8 p.m., he and Mrs. Jenkins left the affair -- she to go to a dinner party; and he, to return to his office. It was Mr. Jenkins' custom to work far into the night, as well as on week ends, the FBI learned.

At 8:35 p.m., Mr. Jenkins was arrested in the basement men's room of the YMCA Building, 1736 G Street, Northwest, Washington, D. C., by officers of the Metropolitan Police Department. Arrested at the same time for engaging in an indecent act with Mr. Jenkins was Andy Choka, a 60-year-old retired Army enlisted man.

Mr. Jenkins made no attempt to hide his identity from the officers, willingly accompanied them and admitted having been arrested one previous time on a morals charge.

The previous arrest occurred shortly before 10:30 p.m., January 15, 1959, in the same basement men's room of the YMCA. He was charged with loitering for indecent purposes.

In January, 1959, the arrest resulted in a record entry submitted to the FBI charging Mr. Jenkins with Investigation (Suspicious Person). He was released after posting and forfeiting $25 collateral.

Information was received that the word "pervert" had been added to the police record book at a subsequent time but never submitted to the FBI. Investigation revealed that the word "pervert" was, in fact, later added to this record book by a police officer; and examination of the book indicated that such additions were not uncommon.

On the night of October 7, 1964, he and Choka were charged with "Disorderly Conduct (indecent gestures)." Each was released after posting $50 collateral.

The FBI investigation disclosed that neither Mr. Jenkins nor Choka knew the identity of the other, nor had either gone to the basement men's room of the YMCA by prearrangement, at the time of their encounter on October 7th. Choka has a record of previous morals offenses dating back to 1948.

Mr. Jenkins was interviewed by the FBI on October 18, 1964, and admitted having engaged in the indecent acts for which he was arrested in 1959 and 1964. He claimed that he had been "enticed" by the arresting officer on the former occasion and that his mind was befuddled by fatigue, alcohol, physical illness and lack of food the latter time.

Mr. Jenkins further advised that he did not recall any further indecent acts, and if he had been involved in any such acts he would have been under the influence of alcohol and in a state of fatigue and would not remember them. It was his belief that these two experiences had occurred after extreme fatigue and imbibing in alcohol; and extensive interviews of Mr. Jenkins' co-workers and doctors at the White House revealed that he was suffering from gross fatigue and overwork.

Mr. Jenkins stated that no attempt had ever been made to compromise or blackmail him. He also told the FBI that he would lay down his life before he would disclose any information that would damage the best interests of the United States.

A favorable appraisal of Mr. Jenkins' loyalty and dedication to the United States was given the FBI by more than 300 of his associates, both business and social, representing divergent political backgrounds, who were interviewed in this investigation. The investigation did not indicate that any classified data had been compromised.

Mr. Jenkins, who entered Government service in 1940, was first investigated by the FBI in 1957. The investigation was conducted at the request of the Atomic Energy Commission in connection with a clearance to be granted Mr. Jenkins by that Commission as Administrative Assistant assigned to the Preparedness Investigating Subcommittee of the United States Senate.

Without exception, all persons interviewed at that time commented highly regarding Mr. Jenkins. The investigation disclosed that he had seen action in the United States Army during World War II -- entering the Service in 1941 as a Private and was honorably released from active duty as a Captain in December, 1945, when he was transferred to the Army Reserve.

In May, 1950, Mr. Jenkins was transferred to the Air Force Reserve as a Major. He was promoted to the rank of Colonel in 1958 and has been attached to the 9999th Air Reserve Squadron at Andrews Air Force Base in Washington. His available ratings disclosed while an enlisted man he was rated "excellent" and while an officer during the period from 1955 to 1961 he was rated either a "very fine officer" or a "very outstanding officer."

As a member of this Air Reserve Squadron, Mr. Jenkins received a number of briefings of a classified nature.

Mr. Jenkins has received the following clearances:

1. Air Force Top Secret Clearance, April 5, 1956.
2. Department of Defense Top Secret Clearance, December 23, 1957.
3. Atomic Energy Commission Q Clearance, February 20, 1958, -- following the full field FBI investigation of him requested by the Commission in 1957.

According to Mr. Hoover, on January 16, 1959, the FBI received a fingerprint card from the Washington Metropolitan Police Department reflecting that "Walter Wilson Jenkins," who was "Unable to Give" his occupation, was arrested for "Inv. Sup. Person" (Investigation Suspicious Person). No mention of a sex or morals offense appears on this card; nor did it show any indication of Government employment.

On Friday, April 7, 1961, the Secret Service, which had been requested to issue Mr. Jenkins a White House pass, submitted his fingerprints to the FBI. The following Monday, the FBI sent to the Secret Service Mr. Jenkins' identification record showing the January, 1959, charge against him as shown on the fingerprint card submitted by the Washington Metropolitan Police Department.

Additionally, in April, 1961, in response to a name check request from the Secret Service, the FBI sent that agency copies of its investigative reports from the investigation of Mr. Jenkins which had been launched for the Atomic Energy Commission in 1957. After the President learned on October 14th of the arrest of Mr. Jenkins on October 7, 1964, he ordered the Honorable Douglas Dillon, Secretary of the Treasury, to make a complete investigation of the Secret Service's handling of the information it received in 1961 from the FBI.

On October 16, 1964, Mr. Dillon wrote Acting Attorney General Katzenbach, advising that the FBI identification record which reflected Mr. Jenkins' 1959 arrest for "Inv. Sup. Person" "was not checked further" by the Secret Service "with the District of Columbia authorities nor were any higher officers of the Secret Service or anyone else informed of the report. Specifically it was not brought to the attention of any member of the White House staff, the then Vice President, or any member of his staff."

Because the police record routinely transmitted to the FBI did not refer to the arrest in terms other than Investigation Suspicious Person and because the Secret Service did not notify the White House or the Vice President of the arrest, neither President Kennedy, the White House staff nor Mr. Johnson had any knowledge of the 1959 incident nor any reason to suspect its existence.

When he assumed office as President in November, 1963, Mr. Johnson still did not know of the January, 1959, arrest. When questioned regarding his failure to order an investigation of himself, Mr. Jenkins stated that he thought he had been investigated in 1961.

According to Mr. Hoover, the investigation which the FBI launched last week has disclosed that Mr. Jenkins has had limited association with some individuals who are alleged to be, or who admittedly are, sex deviates. Mr. Hoover stated there was no information reported to indicate that Mr. Jenkins has ever engaged in improper acts with them.

Mr. Hoover stated that many of the persons interviewed observed that the January, 1959, and October, 1964, incidents occurred during periods of extremely intense emotional strain and physical exhaustion in Mr. Jenkins' life.

On October 21, 1964, the Chairman of the Department of Psychiatry in the School of Medicine at The George Washington University advised the FBI -- with Mr. Jenkins' authorization -- that he had first examined Mr. Jenkins on "October 15, 1964, and found him to be suffering from a severe depressive state. This has necessitated continuing hospitalization with constant nursing attendance. Further examination of Mr. Jenkins leads to the conclusion that his general adjustment is within the normal range and that his present condition was the culmination of extreme tensions."

An Interim Top Secret clearance was requested of OSD for Walter Wilson Jenkins by Lyndon Baines Johnson, Chairman, Senate Armed Services Preparedness Investigating Subcommittee, 16 December 1957, with a permanent Top Secret clearance to follow. Mr. Jenkins submitted a Statement of Personal History, DD 398, dated 17 December 1957.

National Agency Checks were made by Security Services Division in December 1957 at FBI, G2, ONI, CSC, HCUA, AEC, OSI, and OSI Headquarters. The findings were negative except OSI Headquarters, which produced a personal security investigation report dated 11 January 1956. The findings were favorable. The purpose of the investigation was not obtained.

The Chief, Senate Liaison, Directorate of Legislative Liaison, Office of the Secretary of the Air Force, was informed by letter on 23 December 1957 in response to the request referred to above that an Interim Top Secret clearance had been granted to Mr. Jenkins by Security Services Division, OSD. On the same date, another letter was sent to the Chief, Senate Liaison, granting a Top Secret clearance to Mr. Jenkins as a staff member of the Missile and Satellite Program Subcommittee. On 2 January 1958 Mr. Jenkins signed a Secrecy Agreement.

Gordan A. Nease, Acting Staff Director, Preparedness Investigating Subcommittee on Armed Services, by letter 13 February 1961 to Security Services Division, OSD, advised that his records reflected that Mr. Jenkins, who was carried on the Subcommittee Security List, should be corrected to be shown as in the Vice President's office.

Dear Mr. Secretary:

In connection with the Subcommittee's investigation of the Missile and Satellite Programs, it is kindly requested that my assistant, Walter Wilson Jenkins, be granted an interim Top Secret clearance and thereafter, it is requested that he be issued a permanent type Top Secret clearance.

I am making arrangements at the present to have the necessary Department of Defense Personal History Statement completed by Mr. Jenkins.

Your thoughtful consideration of this request will be appreciated.

Sincerely

October 15, 1964

Honorable William D. Moyers
Special Assistant to the President
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Moyers:

On January 16, 1959, the FBI received from the Metropolitan Police Department, Washington, D. C., the fingerprints of Walter Wilson Jenkins showing his arrest on January 16, 1959, for "Inv. Sup. Person." No disposition for this arrest was shown on the fingerprint card when it was received nor has any disposition for this arrest been received from the Metropolitan Police Department since that time. The only other information appearing on this fingerprint card was sex, male; race, white; height, 5' 11 1/2"; weight, 202; date of birth, 3-13-18; place of birth, Jolly, Texas; Metropolitan Police Department number 168287; residence of person fingerprinted, 3704 Huntington Street, N. W.; occupation, "Unable to Give." These fingerprints were searched in the criminal fingerprint files of the FBI's Identification Division without locating any previous arrest record and the Metropolitan Police Department was so advised.

The FBI received the fingerprints of Walter Wilson Jenkins from the U. S. Secret Service, Post Office Box 7815, Washington, D. C., on April 7, 1961. These fingerprints, on the applicant fingerprint form bearing U. S. Secret Service number "co-3-8180," were searched in the criminal fingerprint files of the FBI's Identification Division and identified with the fingerprints of Walter Wilson Jenkins received from the Metropolitan Police Department in 1959. On April 10, 1961, a copy of an identification record, under FBI number 795 576 D, was sent to the U. S. Secret Service showing the arrest of Walter Wilson Jenkins by the Police Department, Washington, D. C., its number 168287, on January 16, 1959, on a charge of "inv sup person." The purpose of the fingerprinting by the U. S. Secret Service was not shown on the fingerprint card. In processing more than 23,000 fingerprint cards a day in our Identification Division, we furnish arrest records to the U. S. Secret Service only upon its specific inquiry, as in this instance, or in the event of specific information coming to our attention that a White House employee is involved.

Copies of each of the fingerprint cards described above are enclosed.

Sincerely yours,

MEMORANDUM FOR: Honorable Bill D. Moyers
Special Assistant to the President

SUBJECT: Issuance of White House Pass by Secret Service to Walter W. Jenkins

1. The responsibility of the Secret Service includes the issuance of White House passes. The Secret Service reviews the background of all applicants for White House passes for purposes of protective security.
2. When a request is received from a member of the White House staff for the issuance of a White House pass, the Secret Service, as a normal policy, fingerprints the applicant and requests an FBI criminal and subversive file check. This was the procedure followed when a pass was so requested for Mr. Jenkins on April 5, 1961.
3. On April 18, 1961, the Secret Service received an FBI fingerprint return, which stated that Mr. Jenkins had been "arrested or received" on a charge of "Inv Sup Person" (investigation of suspicious person) with no disposition of the entry shown. On April 19, 1961, a copy of a 1958 background investigation was received from the FBI on Mr. Jenkins. The Secret Service had previously been informed by the White House that Mr. Jenkins was in possession of a current Top Secret clearance.
4. Subsequent to the receipt of the White House clearance information, the FBI fingerprint return and the FBI background investigation, the file was reviewed by the PRS Section of the Secret Service, and on May 5, 1961, a White House pass was issued to Mr. Jenkins. The FBI background investigation disclosed no derogatory information on Mr. Jenkins and the FBI fingerprint return was not evaluated as involving a serious matter. The file (including the fingerprint return) was not referred to the White House because Mr. Jenkins was in possession of a Top Secret clearance, the background investigation was clear, and the fingerprint return was not considered serious.
