PERSONAL PAPERS OF JOHN A. BAKER

For list of folder titles, see page 3.

Creator: Baker, John A. (John Austin), 1914-1982

Biographical sketch:

John Austin Baker (1914-1982) was an economist at the Department of Agriculture from 1937 to 1951, and an assistant to the Secretary of Agriculture from 1948 to 1951. He was the director of legislative services for the National Farmers Union from 1951 to 1961, and director of agricultural credit at the Department of Agriculture from 1961 to 1962. Baker served as Assistant Secretary of Agriculture for Rural Development and Conservation from 1962 to 1969. After his government service, Mr. Baker worked as a consultant on agricultural and political topics. He authored several government and organizational publications.

Scope and content note:

The papers of John A. Baker contain materials related to his years as Director of Legislative Services for the National Farmers Union and as Assistant Secretary of Agriculture for Rural Development and Conservation. They were given to the Lyndon B. Johnson Library over three accessions. The first accession is organized in an outline format developed by Dr. Gladys Baker, Historian for the Department of Agriculture. This accession contains the bulk of the Assistant Secretary's professional papers. The remaining two accessions contain Mr. Baker's reading files, publications and work related personal papers. The papers contain correspondence, memorandums, reports, publications, programs, speeches, clippings, itineraries, appointment books and calendars, invitations, and commitment cards. This material covers topics that include natural resources such as government and private land, urban and rural forestry, and water and watersheds; agriculture and farming; grazing and grazing fees on public land; conservation and pollution; flood prevention; roads and rural mobility; recreation; firefighting; rural area development and electrification; cooperatives; job corps and anti-poverty programs; strip mining; housing and urban development; and civil rights issues. This collection also contains a small number of photographs and slides.
