		Breakfast
	7:40	Leave Woodstock for drive to Middlebury via scenic route. Heard narrator on bus re flora & fauna being observed.
	8:55	Made a brief stop at Ripton, Vt. to see Robert Frost's home from the outside -- changed busses and continued the 12-mile drive to Middlebury, admiring the lovely trees and flowers growing along the roadside and along the banks of the little Middlebury river on our right.
	9:25	Arrived in the town of Middlebury at M/M Armstrong's home (President of the College). Freshened up and changed into cap & gown.
	10:35	Processed into the Field House for graduation exercises at Middlebury College. Was officially welcomed by Dr. Armstrong, who then introduced Walt Rostow. Mr. Rostow made the commencement address on "regionalism". Afterwards, Cjtj congratulated the valedictorians and salutatorians as then were given their diplomas. When the honorary doctorates were presented, all went well but Dean Mathey was conspicuously missing from the ceremony -- until he was ushered onto the stand from the audience just in time to receive his degree! This caused much amusement among the spectators and provided a light touch to the proceedings. After Walt Rostow received his degree, Cjtj was given hers and made a few well-received remarks.
	12:10	Left the Field House; changed clothes and went to the Chateau for sherry & mixing and mingling in the West Hall. Then went to the main dining room of the Chateau for an elegant lunch of beef, lobster newburg in patty shell, shrimp &
