LBJ RANCH GUESTHOUSE REGISTER

Creator: LBJ Ranch House (Tex.)

Organizational sketch:

The LBJ Ranch House was Lyndon B. and Lady Bird Johnson's private home in the central Texas Hill Country. It became known as the Texas White House because of the time the President spent there and because it was used to conduct business and entertain official guests.

Scope and content note:

This collection consists of pages taken from the guest book at the LBJ Ranch House near Stonewall, Texas. The pages contain signatures and brief messages from guests and visitors of the ranch. The signatures are mostly from the Johnson family's friends, relatives, neighbors, and work associates.
