AIDES FILES: BEN WATTENBERG

Scope and content note:

This collection consists of files created by Ben Wattenberg while he served as a Presidential speech writer and researcher for Lyndon B. Johnson. The files include speeches along with the drafts and notes used for their creation. The series also contains correspondence, reports, publications, and newspaper and magazine articles. Wattenberg's speeches were focused heavily on social issues including poverty, employment, education, aging and retirement, civil rights, and labor issues. He relied heavily on statistical analysis for his writing and there is a large body of statistical reports included.

- Date range of collection: 8/1966 - 12/1968
