Aides Files: George Christian

Scope and content note:

This collection consists of files created by George Christian, a Presidential aide and Press Secretary to Lyndon B. Johnson. The files contain correspondence, reports, transcripts, press releases, publications, notes and newspaper clippings covering Presidential meetings, speeches, interviews, and press office statements. They include materials on White House staff; Presidential appointments; political affairs; spending and taxation; Presidential libraries; civil disorders and aid to the cities affected by them, especially Detroit; and foreign affairs including the USS Pueblo incident and Vietnam. The files also contain materials on press relations, how the Johnson administration was covered by the press, and how to improve dealings with the press.
