Dear Marvin:

I understand that the Louisiana State Bar Association, which meets annually in Biloxi, Mississippi, extended an invitation to the President to address their meeting April 25 - 27, but have been advised that he will be unable to accept due to other commitments.

I appreciate all too well the demands on his time and the number of similar requests he receives, however, I would greatly appreciate any further consideration that may be given this particular invitation from the Louisiana Bar. If you will be good enough to let me hear from you about the matter I will be most grateful.

With best regards.

Dear Mr. Little:

The President is appreciative of your cordial invitation to deliver the principal address at the annual convention of the Louisiana State Bar Association, to be held in Biloxi, April 25th-27th.

I regret I must tell you for the President that because of the many commitments which he already has, it will just be an impossibility for him to be with you.

Please accept our best wishes for a successful convention and our thanks for your thoughtfulness in writing.

My Dear Mr. President:

The Louisiana State Bar Association is now planning the program for its annual convention to be held at the Buena Vista Hotel, Biloxi, Mississippi, on April 25, 26, and 27, 1968.

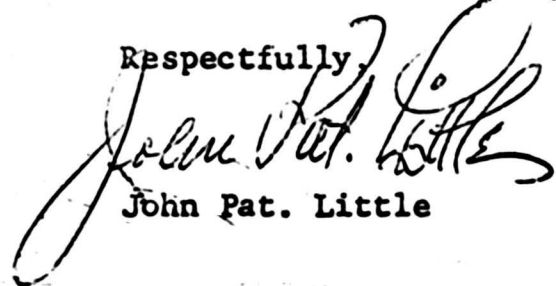

The purpose of this letter is to extend to you a cordial invitation to deliver the principal address at our meeting. We would, of course, be happy to have you select any of these dates at a time to suit your own convenience.

The Louisiana State Bar Association is composed of every-one authorized to practice law in the State of Louisiana, and there are almost 5,000 members.

We would be most honored to have you accept this invitation to deliver such a message as you might wish to an important segment of the leadership of Louisiana.

Trusting that you will be able to be with us, I remain,

Respectfully,

John Pat. Little

Dear Congressman:

I have your letter of the eleventh concerning the invitation to the President to address the annual meeting of the Louisiana State Bar Association in Biloxi, Mississippi, April 25th to 27th, and your hope that he could reconsider this matter.

We have taken another look at the situation as you asked but the President just does not feel he can hold out any hope of going to Biloxi at that time to speak at this meeting.

We appreciate your expression of interest in the invitation and sincerely regret the response cannot be a favorable one.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

I met with A. S. Lee Fernandez, Special Assistant to Mayor Schiro of New Orleans. He had also met with Hale Boggs today.

Fernandez wanted to recommend that Mayor Schiro head up the Louisiana campaign for the re-election of President Johnson. Fernandez said that Hale Boggs was receptive to the idea but suggested that this be cleared with Governor McKeithen first. Fernandez said he and the Mayor will talk to the Governor and keep us informed of developments. I explained to him that he should be in touch with John Criswell on matters such as this. He said he would call on Criswell when he is back in Washington next month.

Hale Boggs may ask your assistance on the National Flood Insurance bill which has been languishing in Conference Committee since last fall.

Hale wants this bill badly. However, George ^x Mahon has told HUD that he will not vote any appropriations for the bill. Without a substantial appropriation the bill is really meaningless and without George's assistance there will be no appropriation, of course.

So if Hale takes it up with you I would recommend you ask him to work it out with George Mahon. The amount of appropriations needed would be a minimum of $250 million.

This is to acknowledge, for the President, the letter which you forwarded, also signed by Senators Ellender and Long, Russell B. and by Congressman Boggs, enclosing correspondence received from Mayor Kirby Roy and Mr. Melvin Harris, President of the 1968 Cochen de Lait Festival in Mansura, Louisiana.

We have noted their desire to have the President enjoy a Mansura-style "Cochen a'la Broche" at his Texas ranch sometime between now and April 12th.

Much as he appreciates the suggestion and appealing as it sounds, unfortunately, the President does not foresee a time when this could be arranged and therefore, has asked that we express his regrets.

President Johnson asked me to express to you his sadness about Fatsy. He appreciated your thoughtful letter and was glad Congressman Boggs, Hale made certain it was delivered.

The President knows you were very fond of Fatsy and hopes you will get another pet soon. He understands how comforting it is to have a dog for a companion and friend -- and thought you might like to have the enclosed picture of him with two of his dogs.

There comes a time when every public official is called upon to put his political chips on the line in a cause he knows is right and just. Some rise to the occasion; others do not.

History will note that on April 10, 1968 - with the Civil Rights Bill before the House - Hale Boggs was not found waiting.

Your efforts to bring that Bill to the floor were, of course, essential to its passage. But your vote was truly courageous.

FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: Barefoot Sanders BFS

As the President knows, it will take a majority of the House conferees and a majority of the Senate conferees to bring back a conference committee report.

Manatos feels certain that Russell^xLong and George^xSmathers will support our package, and that Anderson will probably do so, although that is less clear.

I have asked Mike to try to obtain commitments tonight or first thing in the morning from all three.

On the House side, ^{Hale} ~~Boggs~~ and King are with us. Mills remains the key; without him we cannot have a Democratic majority.

The President has the report of the conference meeting this afternoon. The conferees are to meet at 10: a.m. tomorrow.

We will, with Treasury, talk in the morning to each Democratic member on Ways and Means to see if we can find 13 (of the 15) Democrats on the committee who will support the package. Our canvassing the committee will stir^x Mills up but at this point I don't think that makes any difference. Skilbur

I am considering asking George^x Mahon to give a back-grounder to one or two representatives of the press, saying in effect that he, George, understood that Mills was supporting this package and that it was on the basis of this understanding that he went ahead in his committee this morning. I don't know whether George would do this. Is there any interest in my asking him to do this?

YES NO CALL ME

I am trying to reach Carl^x Albert and the Speaker to ask them to see Mills. Since they have been unable to influence him to date, I have no great hopes they can influence him now.

SP

FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: Barefoot Sanders

I believe the President should consider giving a little extra attention to the Speaker and Carl Albert in order to inspire them to greater efforts in behalf of our legislative program the next three months.

Carl^x Albert, in particular, is starved for attention. I know that Carl feels, with some justification, that he carries the brunt of the leadership load. I believe he is a little resentful that Hale appears to get more personal attention from the President than either Carl or the Speaker.

Carl's judgment of the floor situation is always on the optimistic side. This leads him to be reluctant to make the extra effort on controversial legislation which is often required. I do not mean that he has not worked for the Administration. He has worked hard.

But if we combine his optimistic assessment of the floor with the feeling that he is not appreciated, we lose a lot.

So I would recommend that the President have a phone visit with Carl in the near future. In this connection, his birthday is May 10 and the President might wish to consider doing something extra special - for example, a gift personally presented with Mrs. Albert coming in also, or having them in for dinner for the occasion.

The Speaker has been somewhat down in the dumps since the President withdrew. He pitched in hard on the Civil Rights bill, But I am having increasing difficulty in persuading him to put the lash to the Rules Committee. The Speaker is a great whip; he understands the game and enjoys it and is effective. He is still very cooperative so far as head counts are concerned.

I regret I was not able to deliver an "LBJ" to the President last night at the Hale Boggs' party. Excuses don't excuse, but because of the President's overwhelming popularity, my supply was exhausted. I promise never to deplete my stock!

The President also asked that I visit with him soon. However, I would like to go one step further and request the privilege of accompanying him on one of his trips. FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: Barefoot Sanders

I visited separately with Carl Albert and Hale Boggs this afternoon. The Speaker was planning to meet - and is meeting now - with Mills, Mahon and Albert so he and I agreed to visit later this afternoon.

Walburn George

With regard to having a bi-partisan leadership meeting on the Tax bill conference report, Carl thinks it inadvisable and Hale sort of favors it but thinks that it should be delayed until after the President has met with the Democrats.

With respect to having all the Democrats down to the White House for a briefing session on the necessity of the Tax bill, both Carl and Hale are very much in favor of this. The Democrats would be brought down in three groups of about 80 each.

As to providing a vote on a recommittal motion for $4 billion, Carl slightly favors and Hale wants to think about it but is inclined to favor. Both raised the question of whether this can properly be done in a rule. I think that it can be.

The advantage of such a motion would be that it would give labor something else to work on besides simply committing votes against the conference report and it would give us something to be for as an alternative to the conference report.

Carl mentioned that Mills had told him that he did not plan to bring up the report until after Memorial Day. No date has been set yet for Rules Committee consideration.

The Pepper Joint Resolution to create a Congressional Committee on Crime is before the Rules Committee today.

I have told Pepper several times that we cannot endorse this resolution. However, we have not actively opposed the resolution.

Hale Boggs now asks that we -- the Administration -- canvass the Rules Committee against the resolution. I have held back from doing this because of the political hazard of opposing anything having to do with crime. I believe that we will lose even if we work the Committee.

Does the President wish for the Administration to take a position against the Pepper Resolution this morning and convey that position to the Rules Committee Democrats?

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

July 30, 1968
Tuesday, 4:10 p.m.

FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: Barefoot Sanders [Signature]

I talked with the Speaker and ~~Hale Boggs~~ about the impacted school area money (the $91 million in the Second Supplemental).

The Speaker says that on the merits the thing to do is to withhold the money. Politically, however, he feels that withholding the money will be quite harmful to many Democrats.

The Speaker recommends against any meeting unless the purpose of the meeting is to tell the Congressmen who attend that the money is going to be allocated as appropriated -- in other words, that there will be no impoundment.

Boggs says that it will be very harmful politically to withhold the money.

I am enclosing a Memorandum containing background for your call to Congressman Boggs. He is likely to be the key vote among the House Conferees. We understand that Congressman Byrnes and Congressman Karsten desire to keep the present $1 million limit on these industrial development bonds. If we assume -- and this is an assumption because we do not know their final position -- that Chairman Mills and Congressman Curtis will prefer the Senate amendment, then Congressman Boggs becomes the decisive vote. I think the Senate Conferees will favor the $5 million limit.

After talking with you today, I recalled --as I have done so often in the past few weeks -- how unselfish and patriotic you were to take the job as Platform Chairman at the National Convention. I know it was not an easy task.

They said you were my hand-picked choice for the post. The fact is, of course, you were selected completely by the Arrangements Committee and approved by both House and Senate Leaders as well as the Vice President.

But all that is beside the point. You will be judged by the job you did. And I know I speak for the vast majority of Democrats when I say that you handled a most difficult assignment with wisdom, energy, fairness, and great love of Country.

You and Lindy have served America well, and you have been a great comfort to this President -- who thanks you both.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

The House conferees caved in this afternoon to Russell Long on his Anti-dumping rider on the Re-negotiation Bill. X

Long and Hartke^{Vance} had sponsored this rider which, for all practical purposes, nullifies the Anti-dumping Code negotiated as part of the Kennedy Round. Technically, the rider simply provides that the Anti-dumping Act of 1921 is paramount and that the Code shall not be construed in a manner inconsistent with the Act. But the clear intent of the amendment is to signal the Tariff Commission that they are not to alter the previous standards for finding injury in dumping cases.

^{Wilbur} Mills and Hale Boggs held out against the rider until today. However, Mills was a weak sister on it from the start. Boggs fought hard to the bitter end and attempted a variety of compromises with no success. At one point, this morning, Long told them this was so important to him that he was willing to resign as Whip and take his case to the Senate floor solely as Chairman of the Finance Committee!

It is probably that this bill will be "veto proof" because it also includes the implementing legislation for the International Coffee Agreement. However, I have asked the lawyers at Justice and State to check out the coffee situation very carefully to determine if the legislation is absolutely essential to the operation of the agreement.

As per your direction, I will now talk to Long to discuss the Newsom-Leonard parlay as a possible solution to the Tariff Commission vacancies.

Mr. Califano:

^x John Robson called this morning and left the fol message for you:

The story on the ^x Boggs ^{Hale} road problem is this. We have not received all of the requests for extra mileage and the time for closing them off is not until November 15. The other states are coming in with requests. Frank Turner, Director of Public Roads, and Secretary Boyd went down to talk to Boggs a couple of weeks ago and explained that they could not make a decision on one segment of the road until everybody had their requests in and we have made no decisions at this point. It will probably be December before we will be able to make a decision on all the requests that are in.

The particular piece of highway that Boggs has in mind is a reasonable request. It seems to meet the general criteria that we have promulgated for all requests and there is a good possibility that it will be selected but it has to be measured against all the requests.

John Robson has asked the people at the bureau to see if there is any other wrinkle we could apply with relation to Boggs' request for an allocation of 42 miles from the 1500 miles of new mileage that was just authorized.

Nothing could give me more pleasure than to join those who honor my great long-time friend, Hale Boggs.

It is most fitting that the ^{*}Loyola Institute of Human Relations has chosen to pay tribute to a man who has made better human relations his way of life. I have known Hale for many years and throughout those years I have been a consistent admirer of his courage and uncompromising commitment to the highest ideals of America. He has used his articulate voice and influential vote in the Congress to bring the fullness of opportunity to every fellow citizen. There is no end to the good he has done as there is no end to the list of American families who owe him a lasting debt of gratitude.

My warmest congratulations go out to Hale on this fine honor -- so highly representative of his productive life-long career. And I salute the Loyola Institute of Human Relations for choosing to honor him.

Re: Maine's Application for a Foreign Trade Zone

My dear Mr. President:

H
Congressman Hayne filed Exec FC-669
Aspinall's letter to you was published by him on the front page in the Oil Daily of October 30, 1968, where I read it.

Highly sensitive to the burdens which you bear, I would not address a reply to this letter were it not for two considerations:

1. That it might prejudice the relief which 11-1/2 million people in the New England area are seeking to reduce shortages and for lower costs of heating fuel, which this plan would guarantee them. Such a public interest cannot be ignored.
2. There are wholly untrue and unwarranted "bribe" insinuations against three executives of the Hooker Chemical Corporation, a subsidiary of Occidental Petroleum Corporation, which must be corrected, not only because of the integrity and high reputation of the three individuals, but because of the attempted reflection upon Occidental Petroleum Corporation.

The letter of Congressman Aspinall is part of an extensive diversionary attack by some of our competitors, who are charging the people of New England higher prices for fuel oil than any other region in the country pays, and who wish to hold on to their monopoly profits. It is important first to bring into focus the true issue. Briefly stated, it is as follows:

1. The plan of the State of Maine, based in part on Occidental Petroleum's undertaking to build a refinery, is supported by the six Governors of the New England states: Governors Curtis, King, Hoff, Volpe, Chafee, and Dempsey; twelve Senators of the New England states: Senators Smith, Muskie, Brooke, Kennedy, McIntyre, Cotton, Pastore, Pell, Prouty, Aikens, Ribicoff, and Dodd; and, more than twenty Congressmen. Many of these Governors, Senators and Congressmen testified in person before the Examiners' Board of the Department of Commerce. Others filed statements.

Before leaving the White House on Inauguration Day, I take this opportunity to tell you that I very much cherish the association we have enjoyed.

Few people have the opportunity which I have had, either to serve two Presidents as their Senate Liaison officer, or to be involved in the day to day working relationship with the Senate.

I particularly value the friendship of the House Leadership, and I leave the White House with the greatest appreciation of and respect for the Chief Executives under whom I served, as well as for your great legislative body. Together we have enacted a record which may never be equaled.

Johnson's application has not cleared through Justice. His case is on appeal in the 4th Circuit. The present United States Attorney opposes the application as does the sentencing judge. I believe Ramsey would be very reluctant to recommend.

I hand this to you because the Speaker has indicated his interest in it to me on previous occasions and may mention it to you today.

The President and Mrs. Johnson departed the White House for Capitol Hill accompanied by Senator Howard W. Cannon. Cannon and the President visited on the trip up Independence Avenue to the Longworth House Office Building cafeteria.

The President and Mrs. Johnson were met at the entrance of the Longworth Building by Speaker McCormack, Congressmen Carl Albert, Hale Boggs, Gerald Ford, and Senator Mike Mansfield. They proceeded to the cafeteria where the President shook hands with the 500-600 Members of the House and Senate and wives who attended the reception.

Carl
Congressman Albert acted as Master of Ceremonies and introduced Senator Mike Mansfield and Congressman Hale Boggs to make brief welcoming remarks. Congressman Fred Schwengel of Iowa presented a set of books on the Capitol. Mrs. Johnson made brief remarks and thanked everyone for the books.

John
Senator McCormack then introduced the President and the President spoke, after which the Members of Congress spontaneously sang Auld Lang Syne.

The President and Mrs. Johnson shook hands with all attending and then left with Mike Manatos, Barefoot Sanders, and myself in the car to return to the White House.
