Dear Mike:

Daniel
Senator Brewster and I would be most grateful for any suggestions you might be able to make for the 2500 wives of Jaycees who would like to tour the White House sometime after 9:00 A.M., on Tuesday, June 27, 1967.

The National Convention of the United States Jaycees will take place in Baltimore, this year, and will be bringing 10,000 business leaders from all over the country to the Nation's sixth largest city. The convention will be from 25-30th of June.

We are both hopeful this large group will merit
special consideration, and as the chairman of the Ladies Program is our constituent, and the event will be held in Maryland, we would appreciate whatever might be done to help them.

With warmest personal wishes.

Mike, Speidel is the same person that Senator Morton said "is a must".

I today received the attached letter from Senator Brewster in which he indicates his regard for Speidel and wants to know what the status of this matter is, and if there is any real possibility of Speidel receiving such an appointment.

If your schedule permits, perhaps you could check Speidel personally with Senator Brewster to find out how he feels. At the moment, we are in the process of preparing a memorandum to the President on the next Ambassador to Togo (the President has already selected someone for Chad) and we are considering Speidel as a non-career candidate.

Dear Mrs. Rogala:

Thank you for sending me a copy of your letter of April 24 to Senator Daniel^X Brewster expressing the concern of the Cabin John Park Citizens' Association over the noise caused by jet aircraft landing and taking off from^X National Airport.

The management of the area's airports, National,^X Dulles and^X Friendship, is the concern of the Federal Aviation Agency and the Department of Transportation. I am, therefore, transmitting your letter to General McKee who is the chief of the Federal Aviation Agency.

In view of the interest of your association in this matter, I enclose a copy of the President's memorandum to the heads of all the Departments and Agencies calling upon them "to take into explicit and due account aircraft noise whenever it is relevant to any of their programs or to action in which they may participate, and to cooperate with the Secretaries of the Department of Transportation and the Department of Housing and Urban Development in efforts to control and reduce the problems of aircraft noise."

Also enclosed is a copy of a report to the President from Dr. Donald Hornig on this same subject.

I am sorry I must send a disappointing reply to Miss Appel through you. As much as the President would like to be able to undertake personal audiences, the heavy official schedule with which he constantly is confronted and the ever-increasing demands upon his time make it impossible for him to include such meetings on his calendar.

August 3, 1967

Mr. Watson --

Daniel B.

Last October Senator Brewster got in touch with us about The National Conference of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators, to be held here in early December.

We wrote the Senator then it was too soon to make any commitment. That the Assn. should go ahead with plans and then get in touch about 2 months before the actual dates to see what the possibilities were for an appearance by the President.

John R.

The Senator is writing at this time, forwarding a copy of a recent letter from Mr. Jewell who says the meeting is Dec. 5 and 6:

That they hope the President can appear because "frankly, so many State officials have strong reservation on a number of Federal proposals in highway safety field and State Legislatures have shown little interest in bringing their States into compliance with Federal minimum standards...":

Hence, an appearance by the President would do much to dissolve "residue of bitterness" and greatly assist Sec. Boyd in the development of Highway Safety Program.

FURTHER, Mr. Jewell asks the Senator if he could assist in getting Mrs. Johnson to give a Tea for the 150-200 ladies attending the Conference on either Dec. 5 or 6 when she might talk to them on Highway Beautification.

Is it all right to acknowledge receipt of this, telling the Senator it is still too soon; we will try to give some indication about 2 months in advance but we really can't promise anything now. That, we are asking Mrs. Johnson's office to let him know about the possibility of the Tea.

Then, send the letter to Mr. Boyd for his recommendation and when it comes back hold it with the FILE until this is taken under advisement around Oct. 1st?

Senator Brewster has asked me to inquire whether two messages can be sent for the President to Marylanders who are celebrating notable occasions this month.

Tomorrow - Friday, August 4th - is the 70th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Harp, 140 W. Antietam Street, Hagerstown, Maryland.

August 20th marks the 100th birthday of Mrs. Mary A. Harrington, who is affectionately known as "Miss Mollie," and who lives at the Maryland Odd Fellows Home in Frederick, Maryland.

Anything you can do in this regard would be much appreciated.

Subject: East Coast Recreation Need
1 Minute

Sen. Daniel Brewster

Mr. President:

The President's Natural Beauty Message was a moving recitation of our shortcomings to date and an exhilarating outline of what can come tomorrow.

I was particularly impressed that he offered a program of Federal assistance to stimulate local efforts to overcome blight and ugliness.

It was heart-warming to see the President urge favorable action to establish more parks and recreation areas. It is especially noteworthy that he recommended favorable action to establish such additional areas as Assateague Island National Seashore, Tocks Island National Recreation Area, Cape Lookout National Seashore, Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore, and Indiana Dunes National Lakeshore, among others.

All are priceless. A definite need exists for these and other Federal recreation areas. If action is not taken soon, these areas may be lost forever.

The President's recommendations serve to emphasize that the hour is late—but not too late—to acquire desperately needed public recreation areas.

Reference is made to your recent letter enclosing correspondence from Mr. Jewell concerning the National Conference of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators which is being held here December 5th and 6th.

We have noted Mr. Jewell's comments and his continued hope that the President will be able to accept the invitation extended to him to appear at this conference. Unfortunately, however, as matters have developed, it is now apparent that it will not be possible for him to do so.

I am also sorry to send a disappointing reply to the suggestion about a tea at the White House for the ladies attending but the schedule is such that this, too, is impossible to arrange.

K Dear Dan: Daniel B. Brewster

I share your "grief and disappointment" that I was forced to veto H.R. 11089, the life insurance bill which you sponsored in the Senate. Those emotions, however, are not so serious as public disagreement between us on figures. When you and I disagree on figures, one of us must start from a faulty premise.

In your speech on the Senate floor, yesterday, you said you were disturbed because my veto message contained some serious inaccuracies, which indicate that I have "wrong and slanted information."

The intent of my insurance veto messages, both this year and last, was to call attention to the relationship between increases in salary and increases in life insurance. This is a point which many people do not understand.

Let us take two cases, a GS-5 employee and a PFS-4 postal employee, grades which include a large proportion of Federal employees covered by the insurance program.

In 1957 the GS-5, entering Federal service, earned $3670 per year. Taking into account both pay raises and progression through the steps of his grade, that same GS-5 -- without promotion -- now is earning $6563 per year, an increase of 79 percent in ten years. His insurance coverage has risen from $4000 to $7000, a rise of 75 percent.

Almost exactly the same figures apply to the PFS-4 postal worker. His pay has risen by 79 percent and his insurance coverage by 75 percent over this period.

I called Senator Brewster and asked him to determine if Senator Tydings would support Herbert O'Connor for United Nations Alternate Delegate. Senator Tydings called back and stated there is no objection and if nominated he would make supporting statements.

However, he also mentioned two people that he thought would be good -- George Hoffberger who is President of the National Brewery and Richard Emory, a lawyer. Both are from Baltimore.

Senator Tydings stated that if Senator Brewster felt strongly about O'Connor, then not to consider these other two names at this time because Senator Brewster is the Senior Senator and is up for re-election in 1968. However, he knows these two people are friends of Senator Brewster.

You may wish to use this opportunity to ask Garmatz to oppose -- or at least not support -- the so-called Byrnes amendment to the DOD Conference report. Garmatz spoke in favor of this amendment when it was offered on the floor June 13 during debate on the DOD appropriation, and was adopted by division vote, 119-61.

The Senate defeated a similar amendment and the Conference agreed to report this back as a separate item in disagreement so that there can be a separate vote.

George H.
You will recall that Secretary McNamara and Chairman Mahon, believe it is most important that the Byrne amendment be defeated. X

It will be voted on next Tuesday, September 12, when the DOD Conference report is before the House.

The effect of the amendment is to prohibit purchase by this country from Great Britain of mine sweepers worth $62.5 million. If the amendment stands McNamara feels that the British agreement to purchase over $2 billion in aerospace equipment in this country is endangered.

Garmatz can be key on this vote. At best we need his support and his help with the members of his committee. At the minimum we want him to be inactive.

◆ The political impact of divorce and remarriage will be tested again next year in two Eastern Senate races involving incumbent Democrats. GOPollsters in Pennsylvania are headed back to their surveying boards to determine what effect Senator Joseph Clark's remarriage might have on his chances for re-election. Earlier polls showed Clark running well ahead of Rep. Richard Schweiker and State Senator John Tabor, with former Governor Scranton, who says he isn't interested, the only Republican with any possibility of defeating the senior Keystone senator in '68. In neighboring Maryland, Senator Daniel Brewster is also running counter to accepted political snibboleth, having divorced and remarried earlier this year. Likely Republican challenger for Brewster's seat will be Rep. Charles Mathias.

Dear Senator Brewster:

Thank you very much for your letter and your recommendation of Mr. J. Homer Ramsberg for an appointment to the Federal Farm Credit Board.

I have checked into this matter and have expressed your interest and concern in this nomination. I am informed that the next vacancy on the Board will not occur until next year. Under the Federal Farm Credit legislation, the President must before making any appointments, receive nominations from three areas: the national farm loan associations in the district of the vacancy; the production credit associations in the district of the vacancy; and the cooperatives which are stockholders on the guaranty fund of the bank for cooperatives of the district in which the vacancy occurs.

In the meantime, the appropriate officials have have your recommendation of Mr. Ramsberg and I know he will be given careful consideration.

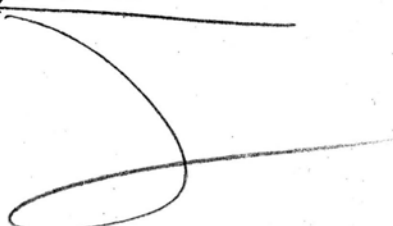

Sincerely yours,

James R. Jones

You may have seen this, but the attached is the letter which Senator Brewster is sending out throughout Maryland on the tax increase.

The news media almost daily that the increase and that the Congress spent it. And every time we pick up the amount which is already paid in taxes.

Constituents have voiced concern about and have asked my views, I am taking now that I intend to oppose the tax

There is no denying the $28 billion deficit and close our eyes and hope it goes away, it will remain with us, and even grow larger. It seems to me that there is one obvious way to cope with it while avoiding a tax increase - reduce government spending.

A system of spending priorities must be established. Is the race to the moon absolutely necessary? Must huge corporate farms be paid not to plant crops? Must we maintain six divisions in Europe? Must "pork barrel" public works projects which have no particular priority be instituted now? If we answer "no" to each of these questions, we can forget about a tax increase and still cut down the deficit.

With the hope that these few lines will be of interest to you, and with kindest regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

DANIEL B. BREWSTER,
United States Senator

Dear Mike:

As co-sponsor of the Public Broadcasting Act (S. 1160), I would like to request that Dr. Frederick Breitenfeld, Jr., and Mr. Ellery B. Woodworth of the Maryland Educational-Cultural Broadcasting Commission, be included on the list of individuals to be invited to the signing ceremony for this legislation.

During the past year, the State of Maryland has embarked on a far reaching program for the development of a statewide educational television facility. With central production facilities in Baltimore County, the state network, when completed, will include seven transmitting stations to provide open circuit broadcast throughout all of Maryland.

Dr. Breitenfeld has been a leader in the development of educational television throughout the United States for the past ten years. Before coming to Maryland, he served as Associate Director of the Educational Television Stations Division of the National Association of Educational Broadcasters. Before that he was a consultant to the government on television installation and utilization at Cape Kennedy. His numerous articles on educational television have appeared in a variety of national publications, and he is the author of the 1965 NAEB report on Long Range Financing of Educational Television. This report has formed part of the basis for all future consideration in the matter of the financing of educational television including the legislation referred to above. He served as a senior staff member with NAEB during the period when the Carnegie Commission was formed and developed its report.

Mr. Woodworth is the Director of Development for the Maryland Educational Television network. Before going to that position, he served as my Legislative Assistant for four years. He is a member of the Maryland Advisory Council for Higher Education, and has just recently been appointed by Governor McNair to the Southern Regional Education Board Advisory Committee. Mr. Woodworth gave extensively of his time and everyy in developing support for this Public Broadcasting Act. He served as a consultant on this legislation

I talked to Fanseen this morning and he would like to have an appointment to discuss his possibilities of this job. As you probably know, there is little possibility that he will be appointed.

However, will you see Fanseen for Marvin sometime this week. You can call him in Baltimore, Area Code 301 LE9-4710.
