UNIVERSITY SETTLEMENT

April 23, 1966

NIGHT LETTER

Honorable Irving Ben Cooper
University Settlement Testimonial
for Honorable Emanuel Celler
New York Hilton Hotel
New York, New York

University Settlement has done well to confer its highest honor on a man whose work so vividly reflects the noble purpose which for eighty years has marked its own service to humanity.

The name of Manny Celler and the accomplishments which it represents have long been inscribed in the most brilliant annals of our legislative history.

His life has been one of unquestioned dedication to the people of his District, but his voice has reached out to all public-spirited Americans. The many laws which bear the Celler stamp are a part of the fabric of American life.

I gladly join with the members and friends of University Settlement as you salute Manny Celler -- a foremost American and DIPLOMATE IN THE HUMANITIES.

Re: Immigration Bill

Dear Mike:

X I enclose a clipping from The Washington Post reporting that Emmanuel Celler will propose amendments to the Immigration Act to correct the alleged injustices.

Recalling the great contribution of your friend, the Honorable Sam J.
Ervin, Jr., of North Carolina, to the enactment of the last Bill, I wish to bring to your attention the following:

The provision of the present Bill requiring advance clearance through the Department of Labor for jobs to be filled by prospective immigrants is a most burdensome, unworkable and unjust piece of legislation. ITEM: An American family stationed in Greece for a number of years desired to bring to the United States a young Greek girl to look after their children and at the same time have the benefit of talking Greek to the children. The complications encountered were absolutely unimaginable. When the Labor people saw that the attraction was the teaching of Greek, they immediately consulted their books about governesses and tutors and indicated that the terms of employment should provide that this young girl should be paid hundreds of dollars per month. To be brought in as a maid, she was under age and the current salary payable to maids (at the rate of $3.00 per hour or so) were terms demanded to be inserted under the contract of employment. In addition, any application -- even meeting all standards -- would require weeks and months to clear through the bureaucracy of the Labor Department and from there to the State Department, and back to the Immigration Department.

It is a well-known fact that America suffers from lack of domestic servants. Nobody in the United States wants to be a domestic. Why should there be any restriction on domestic servants since no one here wants to work? The old Immigration Act of 1917 and the previous ones exempted domestic servants from all the restrictions of the Immigration Act. Isn't it about time that we should reinstate those provisions in the Act?

It is the consummate opinion of this writer that the recent changes of the Act, which come into full operation in July, 1968, will be greatly thwarted if the labor provisions are not repealed.

With kindest personal regards,

Sincerely yours,

X

WASHINGTONApril 11, 1968

Mr. President:

I understand that Congressman ^XCeller ^{EMANUEL} may want to talk to you about the New York Judgeships, among other things.

The FBI and ABA investigations on both Travia and Judd have been completed. The nomination papers will be over here from Justice very shortly.

Ramsey points out that the New York Times ^X ^{N.Y.} has criticized the Travia appointment as being solely political. He said that unless the President thinks this appointment is a plus, he might not want to go ahead and make it at this time.

However, Warren Christopher notes that the FBI report and the ABA report show Travia to be far better qualified than people give him credit for. In addition, Warren says that Albert Jenner, the head of the ABA Committee volunteered to call the New York Times and tell the Times this.

Ramsey also notes that Congressman John ^XRooney has indicated disapproval of the Judd appointment on the grounds that he is a Republican. Rooney says that things seem to be going better in Brooklyn and that this will be harmful. At the very minimum, Ramsey hopes he can have his notice to call Rooney before the appointment is announced since Rooney heads up his appropriation sub-committee.

Since the introduction by me of H.R. 16615, which bill was originally sponsored by Chairman Celler, I have received numerous comments of praise and have been urged to try to expedite consideration of same. There is some concern as to whether any such measure can move in the 90th Congress in view of the possible limited time remaining.

I do hope you will do your utmost to obtain consideration of the matters contained in these bills.

The gun control legislation will not be on the House Floor next week.

 Emanuel*
I have been after the Speaker and Carl all week to set this Bill if House Judiciary reported it. After House Judiciary reported it, I asked Celler to obtain -- and he did obtain -- permission to file the report over the weekend so that the Bill would be ripe for Rules Committee in its Tuesday meeting.

M.M.
However, Colmer refuses to set the hearing. Neither the Speaker nor Carl is able to persuade him to set the Bill. I talked with the Speaker again after passage of the Tax Bill and he said that he "hoped" that Colmer would set the Bill for a Wednesday hearing but he had no assurance.

In any event, Carl did not put the Bill on the program for next week.

Next week's program for Administration bills is as follows:

1. Metric System Study.
2. Labor-HEW Appropriation.
3. Legislative Appropriation.
4. Pipeline Safety.
5. Food and Agriculture Act Extension. (Subject to a Rule)
6. Federal Highway Authorization. (Subject to a Rule)
7. Non-immigrant Visa.

Also, if the Resurrection City campers do not vacate, I feel certain that the House will call up and pass the Bill which revokes their permit.

FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: Barefoot Sanders

When agreement was made to postpone the Foreign Aid Bill until next Tuesday, the Speaker promptly scheduled the Firearms Control legislation for tomorrow.

However, Chairman ^x Celler did not agree. He was not where I could reach him and I could not get his phone number. I wanted to try to persuade him to go ahead with the Firearms Bill now. His excuse to the Speaker was that he will not be ready to argue the Bill tomorrow.

So, Foreign Aid will be taken up as the first order of business next Tuesday, July 16. The Firearms Control Bill will come after that -- Thursday or Friday.

The following week is set aside for Appropriations Bills:

July 22	D. C.
July 23	Defense
July 24	Military Construction
July 24-25	Foreign Aid

Rules has scheduled for tomorrow four Administration Bills:

3. Health Manpower.
4. Higher Education.

We expect all of these will receive favorable reports.

⑥

FROM Joe Califano

Emanuel We are now getting calls about the Brooklyn Shipyard from Congressman Celler and Mayor Lindsay's office here in Washington. As you probably know, the property has already been declared excess, and GSA has had since June the final package reflecting the terms and conditions of the sale, which becomes final if the Congressional Committee does not act within 30 days.

Thus far, GSA has maintained the position that the matter is under study and that there has been a delay because the deal is complicated and somewhat unprecedented.

After three months, the GSA answer is becoming very difficult to maintain. At this point, the delay for the purpose of studying it is unreasonable, and both Congressman Celler and Mayor Lindsay's people know it.

If we are going to put off the sale any further, I would recommend that we get GSA (Joe Moody) to raise some objections to the terms and conditions of the sale so that negotiations can be reopened. While this would cause some problems with the New Yorkers, we have the legal right to reopen the negotiations. Throughout the previous negotiations, GSA made it clear that they could not commit the Government and that the final decision would have to be made by higher authority and then cleared through the Congress. In addition, Joe Moody feels that we can make a very legitimate argument that the deal is not as satisfactory from the Government's point of view as it should be, particularly in terms of the lease agreement which the City recently negotiated with the redevelopment group in New York.

It would also be possible to lease the property now so that New York can proceed with redevelopment, and then renegotiate the terms and conditions of the ultimate sale of the property. This course of action would, of course, commit the Government to the ultimate sale of the property.

September 24, 1968

Nothing could please me more than to join with our great friend, Manny Celler and all the many admirers of Congressman Herb Tenzer in applauding his exceptional legislative record.

Herb Tenzer is one of those remarkable Representatives whose vision and vigor do not stop at their Districts' lines. For years, his voice has stirred the American conscience, and his vote has advanced the American Dream.

It is a lasting tribute to his constituents that they chose a man of such broad and inexhaustible ability to speak for them during these challenging times in our nation's history. I commend your wisdom -- even as I salute his foresight and enviable knack for getting the nation's business done.

My warmest appreciation and good wishes are with him as he retires from the Congress. He will be deeply missed, but affectionately remembered.

Eighth Avenue and Garfield Place
Brooklyn, New York

Dear Manny: Nothing could give more pleasure than to participate in this birthday tribute which the good members of Congregation Beth Elohim are holding in your honor.

There are not enough days in the year to salute the endless accomplishments reflected in your enviable legislative record. But at least we can attempt to express our gratitude to you on your birthday.

Eight decades are a milestone in any life. But few can boast so many selfless years of service to the nation's trust. Your tenacity in upholding the highest public good have won you the highest satisfaction that any man can ask: a secure knowledge that because of your work countless families can face the future with confidence, that their children can look to the development of their fullest potentials, that their senior members can enjoy the comforts of old age -- and that a nation has moved meaningfully along the road to social justice and human brotherhood.

Please accept my warmest congratulations, and my every good wish for your health and happiness throughout the coming year.

No man now in the House of Representatives has served longer, nor with greater dedication to the public interest, than you have.

You were in Congress before Lindbergh flew the Atlantic, before talking pictures, before two-thirds of today's Americans were born. Yet, while times have indeed changed, your concept of service to our people has remained true.

Twenty-three consecutive times, you have put your record before the voters of a district representing every creed and color in America. And twenty-three times they have proved their faith in you.

I welcome this opportunity to join B'nai Zion^{*} in honoring you and the memory of your devoted wife.

EMANUEL
Chairman Celler, called this afternoon about the Brooklyn Navy Yard situation. X

He said there had been a meeting of civic and city leaders in Brooklyn yesterday and there was great criticism of the Administration for not having concluded the negotiations about the disposition of the Navy Yard. Some of those present stated that the White House was obstructing the negotiations.

Celler asked that a White House representative come to New York next week to meet with this group of leaders. I told him that that would not be possible -- that Joe Moody at GSA had complete responsibility for the matter -- and that any inquiries or requests should be directed to Joe Moody.

Dear Mrs. Kochman:

I deeply regret that I cannot be with you as you honor one of the greatest legislators of this century -- Congressman Manny Celler, Emanuel

I have known Manny for many years. And I have many times expressed my highest admiration for his uncompromising human concern and unflinching loyalty to the public trust.

Tonight I want to restate all the countless words of tribute I have paid your honored guest. But I also want to tell you that no words and no tribute can express the satisfaction of an American family receiving needed medical attention or the joy of parents seeing their children grow up with all the education and the fullness of opportunity this nation has to give. That is our real debt to Manny Celler. And it is in the human heart where our tallest tribute to him lies. It is in the daily life of America where it is most effectively expressed.

Dear Barefoot:

A CAB examiner has made a recommendation for certain additional trans-Pacific routes which if finally approved would have serious and damaging effects on airlines now serving the Pacific-Orient.

The CAB has or is about to approve this report. The problem is difficult and vexatious. The CAB apparently would put the burden on the President's back. I hope he will not sign immediately -- as has been reported. May I suggest that you ask him not to approve until I and several others have had a brief chat with him.

I enclose a memorandum in opposition to the report.

Dear Mr. Chairman:

Your recent letter to President Johnson concerning the regional organization of the Bureau of Federal Credit Unions has been referred to me for reply.

Since this reorganization plan involves more than New York, enclosed for your information is a copy of the letter of explanation which was sent to all Federal credit unions on November 26, 1968.

This action was taken to reduce costs and to improve the administration of the Federal Credit Union Program. This is especially important since this program does not receive appropriated funds and is financed through the fees assessed against the Federal credit unions. Accordingly the Federal credit unions in New York will be the beneficiaries of the cost reduction and administrative improvements realized.

The level of services which the Bureau provides Federal credit unions will not be affected. The number and location of the field examiners who have the direct contact with the credit unions in New York remains unchanged. To our knowledge only two employees of the New York office will be moved as a result of this consolidation.

I am also enclosing copy of a telegram from Bill Richards, President of the National Association of Federal Credit Unions, saying that as far as that association is aware the reorganization has not met any complaint.
