

²/₂ package on my bed that had been left there by a special delivery messenger from the Senate. For a minute I thought it must not ~~have been~~ intended for me but then I saw a little cord in the corner with my name on the small envelope. On the cord inside was written "May this serve to remind you of our appreciation of your friendship - Mr. Arthur C. Perry & Mr. Robert M. Jackson". The package contained a large-beautiful-all leather brief case with my name on it. It is one of the best, and just the thing I need every day. Bob & Perry are Texas boys like I know since I came here.
Perry was formerly Sec. Connally's secretary and is now an attorney for the Fed. Communications Commission.
Bob received an appointment as Secretary.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,

WASHINGTON. Wednesday

My dearest Bird;

A long, precious letter late yesterday written Friday and your Special written Sunday this morning presents some more incontrovertible evidence that you are the greatest girl in the world.

I was so happy all day yesterday & and what a perfect ending this morning about one when I turned in to get some sleep - My letter penned yesterday will tell you about everything up until late in the day. When I returned from school and dinner I went to my room to begin studying and found a large

3 to Senator Connally only Sunday.
He is now Assistant Senate Librarian and hails from San Angelo where he worked as Editor of the Standard Times.
He knows a boy on the paper in Marshall and insists that I take him to Texas Xmas.

Hardly had I finished giving the brief case the once over when Helen called to tell me she had tickets to the play at the National.
We will go Fri or Sat. night. The play 'Bring on the Girls' is by Kaufman and Reynolds, who wrote "Of thee I sing" which I so thoroughly enjoyed last year.
Some say 'Bring on the Girls' will be temporarily withdrawn from circulation after Saturday night and rewritten 4 from the end of the first act on.

Helen tells me that it is an overstretched farce aimed at the more vulnerable aspects of the present operation of the New Deal. The producers sent the Secretary of Ag. & several others in the Dept. Comps. in order to indicate the lines weren't personal etc.
The New Dealers that have seen it say it's not farces farce and is about the equivalent of reading a copy of Life as opposed to a Dickens Novel. In short, as it is now, it must be nothing more than a few gorgeous gags. But it will be fun, and after a week in school, it will be helpful.

Honey, I think you need

6 and all in all him very contented just now.

I know your Dad is pleased over the pictures of your brothers. Does he expect to get one to go along beside them as a result of your Dallas trip? Lydon is patiently and unwearily waiting.

It was so thoughtful of you to send your Sunday letter airmail & special. You do want to make me very happy - don't you, darling?

Bill White has just called and we've planned a trip down the Skyline Drive Sunday. The girls will make sandwiches and have little concern about my worries now. Mr. Dick is with the Madam in Monterey this week.

Mr. Miller sent me a very generous letter this morning which read in part "I am most grateful for your two telegrams, one which was received yesterday and the personal one which came this morning (Sunday). Old fellow, you have certainly done everything possible.
I hope to have a further conference etc... and want to again thank you for your kindness in this and other matters in which I impose on you." Then Maury called (person to person) yesterday. After talking to him for several minutes Malcolm sent hello - Then Ray sent me an airmail special this morning

We will spend the day in the Country returning late Sunday refreshed with new energy and enthusiasm - I don't think I could want for more than I have today -

No letter from Gene in several days - It couldn't be the ball game - Could it?
Daddy hasn't written - Guess I must be neglected for a while at that end -

I have been intending to tell you everyday about a little orange comb I carry in my billfold - It is the only thing I have from my little girl at Karnack and when I get lonesome and blue or happy and ambitious I always get pleasure when I look at the little comb and think - - - just think -

I feel that you are very happy now. Things have worked out just as you would have them and I'm sure it is the better for all of us -

Here is all of my affection - I love you much - too much - No!
