

2/ Tomorrow at ten. We will go more into detail ^{with reference to} the N.Y. plans - Aside from that I'm going to seek his second counsel on assuming a somewhat weighty responsibility in So. Texas. Things will not and cannot go on as they are.

This week I've tried earnestly to think of something besides you all day, but my manifestations of indifference notwithstanding, it is apparent to all that I still retain more than a casual interest in every mail delivery -

Tomorrow night I'm going to Maryland Gardens. I owe Bill and Irene White a return engagement and Friday is the night we have agreed upon;

THE DODGE HOTEL
WASHINGTON

8:30
Thursday Night

Dear Bird -

If these letters mean anything to you something tells me you will want one Sunday - Altho' one "can not search the heart or fathom the intentions of the mind, ^{as they} otherwise than are demonstrated by outward acts" I'm assuming for my own satisfaction that some of my epistles are at least amusing if not interesting.

Today has been a busy day - tomorrow will be a busier one -

Mr. Adams has suggested that I see him at the General Electric offices

3 I'll probably spend all the saved because --- I guess just because I'm lonesome -- hungry for companionship -- bright lights -- good food -- and to be just free again -- In the office all day and a hotel room all night doesn't satisfy a Country boy's desire to roam --

It was good of Charles Ethel to say such nice things -- The general public has been so good to me -- They have always, apparently, been so generous and considerate, particularly the good people of Cotulla --

Goodnight Bird -- I'll read until my eyes are tired and get some sleep before time to get back to work. If you get tired of packing books home from the Postoffice let me have a line and I'll slow down --

I had the P.O. dept wire for Dan full to come for a Conference with the Treasury,
P.W.A and Postmaster General Tuesday ~~He is here Sunday~~ ~~and I wanted to come to~~

Affectionately
Gordon Davis

THE DODGE HOTEL
WASHINGTON

Special Delivery

Miss Bird Taylor,
Karnack,
Texas

Air Mail

From Little Rock, Ark.
10 6 18 OCT 6
A. P. J. J. J. J.