

Sunday Night -
Have just talked to you and feel much better but a letter a day will drive some of the loneliness away -

Saturday afternoon

My dear;

I'm sure that there is nothing that could be more distracting, disturbing and estranging to me than a continued evidence of indifference upon your part. Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and today Saturday and no sentiments of affection nor expressions of love! Very likely time will make the picture brighter for me, but I feel terribly blue this afternoon.

Tomorrow I plan to call you - Tomorrow I plan to tell you again what you have already heard so many times and probably it will be tomorrow that I learn definitely just how and where you stand -

Write me that long letter - Tell me just how you feel - Give me some reassurance if you can and if you can't let's understand each other how fine lonesome - I'm disappointed but what of it - Do you care? Lynne Daines
