Creator: Enthoven, Alain C. (Alain Charles), 1930-

Biographical sketch:
Alain Charles Enthoven (b. 1930) was an operations research analyst at the Department of Defense in 1960, Deputy Comptroller and Assistant Secretary of Defense for Systems Planning from 1961 to 1965, and Assistant Secretary of Defense for Systems Analysis from 1965 to 1969.

Scope and content note:
This collection contains the papers of Alain Enthoven. The two series within the collection reflect Enthoven's positions as Deputy Comptroller and Assistant Secretary of Defense for Systems Analysis including his role in the development of defense policy in the 1960s and his involvement in the adoption of the M-16 military rifle. The collection provides insight into the actions of, and interactions between the Office of the Secretary of Defense, the Army, and Congress.

Systems Analysis Files Series
The Systems Analysis Files reflect the important role Alain Enthoven played in defense policy formulation during the 1960s as Deputy Comptroller and Assistant Secretary of Defense for Systems Analysis. The subject files within this series contain records relating to 11 major subjects: Draft Presidential Memoranda (DPMs), Budget/Balance of Payments, Strategic/Nuclear, General Purpose Forces, Tactical Air Power, Vietnam, Secretary of Defense Statements, Congressional, Public Affairs, Office of Systems Analysis, and Miscellaneous. A description of each of these subjects follows:

The Draft Presidential Memorandums (DPMs), in boxes 1 through 8, are the primary product of Systems Analysis. In addition, there is a file that explains the DPM process.

The Budget/Balance of Payments files, in boxes 9 through 13, contain material with a primary focus on financial aspects of the Department of Defense. Value (relative cost effectiveness) is a theme through the subject files.

The Strategic/Nuclear files, in boxes 14 through 17, include material on nuclear weapons, North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) and other theater/tactical nuclear issues, and defense against nuclear attack including anti-ballistic missiles (ABM), interceptors, and hardening silos. T

The General Purpose Forces files, in boxes 18 through 21, include material on non-nuclear programs/force planning, manpower, logistics, mobility, and nuclear-powered ships.

The Tactical Air Power files, in boxes 22 through 23, contain information centered on tactical air issues in Western Europe.

The Vietnam files, in boxes 24 through 28, consist of a wide variety of material related to Vietnam, including statistical reports.

The Secretary of Defense Statements files, in boxes 29 through 32, contain posture statements and remarks before congressional committees.

The Congressional files, in boxes 33 through 38, include Enthoven's and other officials' testimony, supporting documentation, and correspondence with various components of Congress.

The Public Affairs files, in boxes 39 through 40, consist of Enthoven's speeches and correspondence.

The Office of Systems Analysis files, in box 41, contain material relating to the organization and mission of the office.

The Miscellaneous files, in boxes 42 through 44, contain material of which there is too little, or which is too diverse, to fit into the subject scheme.

Rifle Files Series

This series consists of memorandums, correspondence, reports, photographs, and graphs pertaining to the M16 Rifle. The Rifle Files deal exclusively with the testing, development and eventual adoption of a small caliber military rifle (M16). The files concern the lengthy and troubled past of the adoption of the M16 rifle including the research, bureaucratic wrangling, and three congressional investigations of the rile as it was tested and compared to the M14, AR15, and Soviet AK47 rifles. The files reflect the actions of, and interactions between, the Office of the Secretary of Defense, the Army, and Congress, as well as the way in which bureaucracies function.
