For a list of folder titles, see page 2.

Biographical note:

Edward Fried joined the NSC staff as a senior member in August 1967 and assumed many of Francis Bator's responsibilities upon Bator's departure in September 1967. Fried dealt with Western Europe, NATO, balance of payments, and international trade, including East-West trade. He remained on the NSC staff until the close of the Johnson administration.

Arrangement note:

This series is arranged into a subject subseries and a chronological subseries.

Scope and content note:

The subject part of this series contains memorandums, correspondence, speeches, telegrams, and reports. Topics include balance of payments; foreign trade, including rubber and petroleum; the United Nations Conference on trade; and minutes of the Group of Ten Ministerial Meeting in August 1967.

The chronological part of this series contains memorandums, correspondence, telegrams, notes of meetings with President Lyndon Johnson and others, reports, charts, and speeches. Topics include visits of foreign leaders to the United States; foreign economic issues including trade, aid, military assistance programs, and the Sterling Crisis; balance of payments; trilateral negotiations; international civil air agreements; Spanish base negotiations; arms control and disarmament, including the Nonproliferation Treaty and EURATOM; President Lyndon Johnson's schedule; NATO; the UN; the International Monetary Fund; and the Asian Development Bank. This subseries also contains material related to U.S. policy in Western Europe, the Soviet Union, Eastern Europe, Asia, Africa, South Asia, and Vietnam.
