WHCF: CONFIDENTIAL FILE

For list of folder titles, see page 3.

Scope and content note:

This series contains security classified and other sensitive material sent to the White House Central Files (WHCF).

The Subject Files include the same 60 broad subject categories as the main WHCF, Subject Files. Documents and their attachments are filed in a single subcategory with a copy of the first page filed in other pertinent subject categories or name files as cross references. The cross references are marked to indicate the primary filing locations of the documents. Both the Subject and Name files are extensively cross referenced. The Subject and Name Files cover an extensive range of domestic and foreign policy topics, as well as material on the organization and administration of the Executive branch, personnel matters, scheduling, protocol, policy planning and the Johnson family.

In addition to material generated by the White House staff and the President, the Subject files contain material from other Federal, state and local government officials; Heads of State and other foreign government officials; members of Congress; members of the military; members of professional, educational, political, religious, and business organizations and institutions; members of the press; and the general public.

The Name files consist almost exclusively of cross references to material filed in the Subject files.

Agency records consist of three sections. The first section, Cabinet Members' Monthly Reports, contains monthly reports prepared by the Cabinet members on the departmental problems and policies and exchanged with the other members of the Cabinet. The second section, Department Press Contacts, contains lists, summaries and transcripts of contacts with the press. The third section, Federal Agency Records, includes weekly reports and compilations sent to the President from agencies and departments.

Oversize Attachments include files which were too large or bulky for a letter size file. A wide range of domestic and foreign policy topics are covered. Oversize Attachments contain background materials gathered to support or supplement reports, meetings, speeches, press conferences, travel, legislation, budgeting and planning; Task Force reports; U.S. Tariff Commission reports; other finalized reports; and publications and clippings. The material is largely a product of members of the White House staff or other Federal government officials or groups.
