REMARKS BY MRS. LYNDON B. JOHNSON
AKRON MUNICIPAL AIRPORT, AKRON, OHIO

Mayor Erickson, Frances McGovern, friends:

I really feel I am at the "summit" now that I am in Akron.

I keep hearing about the peaks of achievement the citizens of this city reach in community life -- the new buildings, new convention center, urban renewal and miles of new expressways.

Akron is a city of the future any way you look at it. Great things are happening here both on the ground and in the contributions being made to space exploration and landings on the moon.

It would appear, Mr. Mayor, that you and everyone else in Akron take to heart the state motto: "With God All Things Are Possible."

As nearly as I can tell, Akron has everything short of a woman in Congress and I understand you're even working on that.

Thank you for inviting me to Akron.
