Notes concerning the Senator's Activity

It actually was not a good rest and vacation for Senator Johnson to have been in Acapulco. Most everyone in the party was sick at one time or another, except Senator Johnson. He was displeased that he had to meet with the press the first day of his stay and further displeased when the New York Times carried an inaccurate story based on his meeting with the press to the effect that he had received 10,000 wires unfavorable to his acceptance of the Democratic nomination for vice-president.
