Biographical note:

Walt Rostow was appointed Deputy Special Assistant to President Kennedy in January 1961. In November 1961 he became chairman of the State Department Policy Planning Council. In May 1964, President Johnson also appointed Rostow to the post of U.S. representative to the Inter-American Committee on the Alliance for Progress. On March 31, 1966, President Johnson appointed Rostow Special Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs, succeeding McGeorge Bundy who had resigned. In this capacity Rostow directed the NSC staff, served as liaison with the Departments of State and Defense, Joint Chiefs of Staff, and the CIA, and supervised the White House foreign intelligence system and the Situation Room.
